Spring Performance (Working Title)	new	Community Event	60	60	Small	To celebrate the beginning of spring, and emerging from a period of darkness, on Sunday 28th March 2021 we will hold a unique outdoor performance. Building on five previous productions (held between 2015 and 2018), this inspiring production for all ages takes place with the audience travelling across London on bicycles. This would be an inclusive, community event for cyclists of all skills and ages. Participants would cycle along a safe, residential route coming across many sights and installations along the way including a stilt walker, drummers, a trick cyclist among other performers including a community chorus of 18-25 year olds. The ride would be accompanied by a celebratory spring soundscape. All dependent on government guidelines for performance, we are planning for 60 audience members, all on bikes, divided into 2 groups of 30, and accompanied by Cycle Stewards, from Cycle Confident, a training organisation whose aim is to unlock London by empowering everyone to cycle confidently and safely. They will also be accompanied stewards from Wheel's for Wellbeing, a Brixton based charity supporting disabled people of all ages and abilities to enjoy the benefits of cycling. If, at the end of March, the idea of a travelling performance on bicycles goes against government guidelines, we	Clapham Common	28/03/2021	28/03/2021	28/03/2021	28/03/2021	1	1	All ages	This year's theme will centre on Spring and new beginnings. Now more than ever, the theme of reawakening and coming out of the dark feels particularly relevant after a turbulent year for many people in our community. This will be an accessible, family friendly fun celebration of community. The performance promotes cycling as part of an active lifestyle to all age groups. In recent years, the event has been popular for families, and for children, or anyone looking to build confidence in their cycling, this guided tour accompanied with stewards along quiet residential streets and green spaces provides the perfect opportunity. We hope that our audience will feel inspired to bring cycling into their everyday life and as their primary means of transport, where possible. We will work with Wheel's for Wellbeing, and this inclusive event provides an opportunity for those with disabilities to build their experience and confidence riding standard or non-standard bikes. During a year where audiences may be hesitant about booking for a Winter Show or pantomime that takes place in doors, this outdoor performance is a more COVID-19 safe alternative.
